- 18:00 Feedback from the on-the-job-training. Steps forward.

The workshop is very practical. Teaching includes discussion and training in pairs. True learning takes place in the on-the-job-training (OJT) in the early evening. You will be in a team of three and meet with a non-believer who is familiar to one of you three. It is done safely – led by an XEE-trained team leader. You don't have to know anything, you can just come along casually.

Because on-the-job-training is the most important part of learning in the workshop, you cannot attend teaching without OJT. Your team leader will contact you about a week in advance to agree on the OJT meeting. You will receive effective tips on how to ask a friend for a meeting.

Jesus calls each of His followers to be a fisherman of men.
